Pedroza, J. A. & Morales, A. (March 2014). Latinos Living with Diabetes: A Content Analysis of Interventions for Self-Management. Poster presentation at Student Research Conference, Pomona, California.

Research Experience

UC Berkeley — Fall 2026 – Present
PI: Michelle H Wilkerson PhD — GitHub: Show Your Work
Developing Pedagogical Computing Practices for K-12 Educators Using Computational Notebooks

- Conducted 10 think-aloud interviews with reflective questions for educators on using computational notebooks for teaching spatial analysis
- Converted 4 notebooks from Python to R while retaining computational and pedagogical efficiency for both languages
- Examined educators' interest, confidence, and barriers to using computational notebooks

UC Berkeley — Fall 2026 – Present
PI: Alexander Strang PhD — GitHub: DS Evaluation
Assessing Internal Motivators & Developing Methods to Make Data Science More Equitable

- Developed a workflow to clean quiz data, run a Bayesian Diagnostic Classification Model in Stan, and output a parameterized report with model diagnostics, findings, and explanations, as well as a list of proficiencies in concepts assessed for each student
- Creating an app for instructors to input data and custom priors and model type and output a report
- Co-developed a proxy measure to evaluate student perceived readiness for statistics and data science courses

CSU Fullerton — Fall 2025 – Present
PI: James J Guardado-García PhD
Exploring the Role of Intersectional Minority Stress in LGBTQ+ People of Color

- Validated the LGBTQ People of Color Microaggressions Scale using confirmatory factor analysis to assess measurement invariance among Latina/o and non-Latina/o People of Color
- Tested key cardiovascular risk factors to identify different groups of varying risk level using Latent Class Analysis among LGBTQ+ People of Color

University of Oregon — Fall 2019 – Summer 2024
PI: Emily E. Tanner-Smith PhD
Examining the Roles of Social-Ecological Predictors Among Adolescents With Substance Use Disorders

- Validated both an adolescent and parent reported parenting questionnaire which was linked to developmental, behavioral and mental health outcomes
- Established an ecological approach to detect associations from intrapersonal, interpersonal, school, and communal factors with opioid use in at-risk adolescents

University of Oregon — Spring 2019 – Summer 2021
PIs: Elizabeth L Budd PhD, MPH & Nichole R Kelly PhD
Addressing Health Disparities in Latina/o/x Adults

- Investigated individual- and community-level determinants of health, including discrimination stress, perceived health status, and nutrition knowledge in underserved Latina/o/x populations
- Analyzed national and regional datasets to examine how built environment factors (e.g., neighborhood walkability) and sociocultural factors (e.g., acculturation, language competence) influence physical activity, screen-time, and sedentary behaviors among Latina/o/x adults

University of Oregon — Fall 2017 – Fall 2018
PI: Tasia S Smith
Understanding Food Access in Rural Communities

- Built relationships with key community members to have locations for survey data collection and host focus groups
- Trained several research assistants on how to conduct community-based research, including conducting a needs assessment, organizing data collection, and analyzing quantitative and qualitative data
- Mentored research assistants' projects where they presented at conference presentations and one resulted in an undergraduate thesis

CSU Dominguez Hills — Spring 2015 – Summer 2017
PIs: Larry D Rosen PhD & L Mark Carrier PhD
Exploring the Role of Technology Use on Health and Cognition

- Trained various research assistants on how to prepare cognitive assessments and fit a functional near-infrared spectroscopy (fNIRS) device on high- and low-technology use participants
- Led lab workshops on research design, presentation skills, preparing for graduate school, and statistical analyses
- Developed workflow to clean fNIRS data and match with behavioral and cognitive data for various projects

CSU Dominguez Hills — Spring 2017 – Summer 2017
PI: Michelle Martinez EdD
McNair Scholars Program

- Created presentations for graduate school preparation
- Taught students how to create personal statements, diversity statements, and curriculum vitae
- Provided edits on graduate school materials
- Assisted scholars with literature review, hypothesis formulation, methodology, analyses, and the writing process

Cal Poly Pomona — Fall 2013 – Summer 2017
PI: Alejandro Morales PhD
Investigating Prefrontal Cortex Activation in Adult Latina/o/x Language Brokers

- Led experiments where young adults would interpret conversations between a medical provider and family members

Teaching Experience

Instructor

UC Berkeley — Fall 2026
DATA H195A: Data Science Honors Thesis Seminar — Class Materials

- Accepted 24 data science honors applicants as part of the honors admissions committee
- Mentor students to develop independent research projects to be presented on research methods, academic writing, and reproducibility

UC Berkeley — Fall 2026
DATA 6: Introduction to Computational Thinking with Data Science and Society — Class Materials

- Advise a graduate teaching assistant on improving teaching methodologies during discussions
- Adopt workflow utilizing GitHub, Jupyter, and Typst to build handwritten and coding assignments
- Develop data science assignments to practice the fundamentals of coding while also developing critical thinking through the application of these skills using real-world data

Cal Poly Pomona — Spring 2022
PSY 4433/A: Experimental Psychology & Activity — Class Materials

- Trained 30 students to create independent research projects where they conducted literature reviews, developed research questions and hypotheses, incorporated theoretical frameworks, utilized reliable and valid measures, designed experimental stimuli, conducted inferential statistics, and wrote academic reports
- Created unique approaches to collect data and introduce experimental stimuli from student participation pools during an online course

Cal Poly Pomona — Fall 2021 – Spring 2022
PSY 3307/A: Statistics for Psychology & Activity — Class Materials

- Taught multiple sections of 30+ students on fundamental statistical tests for Psychology and other social sciences along with learning considerations for research applications
- Instructed students on how to calculate statistics by hand, and using SPSS and R

Teaching Assistant

University of Oregon — Winter 2020
FHS 420: Research in Human Services
Instructor: Justin Caouette PhD

University of Oregon — Fall 2019
FHS 328: Human Development in the Family Context
Instructor: Bertranna Muruthi PhD

CSU Dominguez Hills — Spring 2017
UNV 395: Special Topics, McNair Scholars Program
Instructor: Michelle Martinez EdD

CSU Dominguez Hills — Spring 2016
PSY 415 & 416: Advanced Research Methods in Cognitive Psychology
Instructor: Alex Lim MA

CSU Dominguez Hills — Fall 2015
PSY 235: Introduction to Research Methods
Instructor: Alex Lim MA

Cal Poly Pomona — Fall 2014
PSY 455: Human Sexual Behavior: Relationships
Instructor: Alejandro Morales PhD

Invited Talks

UC Berkeley — Fall 2026
SESAME Colloquium
Topic: Examining Student Internal Motivators and Ways for Improving Competency in an Accelerated Statistics Course

University of Oregon — Winter 2025
PREV 607: Graduate Seminar
Topic: Careers for Prevention Scientists
Instructor: Ashley Linden-Carmichael PhD

University of Oregon — Winter 2021
FHS 492: Contemporary Issues in Public Health
Topic: Community-based COVID-19 Prevention & Control Research
Instructor: Elizabeth L Budd PhD, MPH

University of Oregon — Fall 2020
PREV 633: Contemporary Issues in Public Health
Topic: Community-based COVID-19 Prevention & Control Research
Instructor: Elizabeth L Budd PhD, MPH

University of Oregon — Fall 2018
FHS 215: Exploring Family and Human Services
Topic: Working with Low Income Rural Populations
Instructor: Kavitha Rao MEd, MA

University of Oregon — Winter 2018
FHS 420: Research in Human Services
Topic: Experiences Using fNIRS Neuroimaging Techniques
Instructor: Emily Tanner-Smith PhD

Relevant Experiences

Posit – Posit Academy Jan 2022 – Present
Data Science Mentor
Supervisor: Kristin Bott

- Lead collaborative and presentation sessions in R and Python for cohorts ranging from research institutions to financial institutions
- Mentor learners on fundamentals of R and Python, like visualizations, data wrangling, data analysis, dashboards, and report creation
- Propose changes for curriculum to align with course learning objectives

University of Kansas – Accessible Teaching, Learning, & Assessment Systems Sep 2022 – Jul 2024
Data Scientist
W Jake Thompson PhD

- Took the lead as the co-chair of the Diversity, Equity, Inclusivity, and Belonging Committee
- Developed automated, parameterized reports to present current findings and compare trends to previous years for collaborating institutions to disseminate on their websites
- Delivered rapid ad-hoc analyses to support center-wide research initiatives
- Constructed predictive models evaluating the text-to-speech functionality to improve accessibility for diagnostic model assessments
- Advanced Dynamic Learning Maps (DLM) assessments, by developing models to assess linear dependencies between attributes
- Built interactive dashboards for state-level stakeholders to identify school districts with challenges implementing DLM assessments
- Utilized natural language processing to improve response rate to teachers implementing DLM assessments

University of Oregon – Student Corps to Combat Coronavirus Jun 2020 – Sep 2020
Team Lead Contact Tracer
Jeffrey Measelle PhD

- Collaborated with the local public health department to track cases and contacts
- Interviewed potential positive cases of COVID-19
- Supervised several contact tracers
- Provided resources for contacts to get necessities during quarantine

Diversity-Related Experiences

UC Berkeley – D-Lab Jan – May 2026
Latinx AI Fellowship Mentor

- Shared personal academic trajectories with mentees
- Discussed how my culture influences my research
- Discussed mentees' research interest and the benefits and drawbacks of pursuing a graduate degree

University of Oregon – Division of Graduate Studies — Sep 2020 – Jun 2021
Diversity & Inclusion Graduate Employee

- Created advisory groups to meet with departments to improve inclusivity for the Division of Graduate Studies
- Cleaned data for departments to choose candidates for Promising Scholar awards
- Organized data from McNair Scholars programs to match with graduate programs at the university
- Assisted students in addressing departmental issues during office hours
- Hosted professional development sessions with graduate students from various disciplines
